Well maybe not quite but this is a property that you simply must inspect. If you are looking to be as one with natural wildlife then this is it. Sit anywhere out on the verandah that wraps all the way around the house and listen carefully - to the sounds of native wildlife. or could it be a Lyre Bird expertly mimicking the sounds of the native bushland .something to ponder as you relax and get away from all the worries of the world. Your nearest neighbours are kangaroos, deer, wombats, lyrebirds, kookaburras, magpies and king parrots. This location provides absolute privacy and tranquillity.

This home is architecturally designed by a well respected local architect, who specialised in the use of chunky rustic timbers and loved creating a feature of large fireplace surrounds. You can just imagine yourself in an Alpine Villa especially when there is a dusting of snow on the ground in winter .and yes, it does sit on or about the snowline, given
